Dear Robert:

How is business going? Here the research has been incredibly productive: I have had 18 abstract accepted to the next Society of Perinatal Obstetricians meeting (which will be held next February in Haway), and I have submitted 5 more abstracts to the Society for Gynecologic Investigation meeting. I have given the opening lecture to the World Symposium of Perinatal Medicine, that took place here in Washington last week (I enclose the program); in summary, I am quite happy.

I am writing to you because I promised to let you know when there would be a window of opportunity for me to spend a week at Great Neck. My work contract will be changed on November 30, so that I will not be 100% research anymore, and I will therefore be able to take time off for moonlighting without problem. Apart for the period December 23 through January 5, when I have family visiting me, and the period February 4 to the 10, 1996, when I am at the SPO, I will be available for ultrasound coverage. Let me know if this suits your needs.

Meanwhile, I send you my best personal regards,

Alessandro Ghidini, M.D.
